SOCALGAS' RATE CHANGES

On July 8, 2015, SoCalGas filed its Phase 2 Triennial Cost Allocation Proceeding (TCAP) Application A.15-07-014 with the CPUC to revise its rates for natural gas transportation service effective January 1, 2017. The request was revised on November 19, 2015, to update costs associated with gas transmission. The revised request represents a decrease in 2017 of 6.7 percent over 2015 system average rates which would decrease an average residential monthly bill with usage of 37 therms a month by $1.76. This decrease would remain the same for the 2017-2019 period, though rates may be impacted by other regulatory proceedings, such as the General Rate Case. Although this will result in an overall decrease for 2017-2019, SoCalGas is proposing to increase its residential customer charge. This charge recovers the fixed costs of utility service. If approved, the fixed charge will increase from $0.16438 per meter per day (approximately $5 per month) to $0.32876 per meter per day (approximately $10 per month).

TCAPs are regulatory proceedings in which SoCalGas updates how it divides the costs of providing gas service to customer classes and determines the transportation rates it charges customers. SoCalGas also forecasts how much gas its customers may use (demand), its balancing accounts (which ensure only authorized costs are collected), and the gas prices used to calculate various rate components. All of these forecasts have an impact on customers' rates. This TCAP is being addressed in two phases. Phase 1 was filed on December 18, 2014, (A.14-12-017) and addressed the issue of updating how to divide the costs related to the underground storage of natural gas for the period 2016 through 2019.¹ Phase 2 addresses updating how to divide all other costs related to gas transportation service, as well as the demand, balancing account, and gas price forecasts, for the three-year period of 2017-2019.

The CPUC will consider whether these particular proposals are just and reasonable when it establishes new rates for SoCalGas.

¹ Due to the expiration of a provision in the currently authorized TCAP, Phase 1 included an additional year, for a total of four years. The two Phases should then be aligned in subsequent TCAPs.

CPUC PROCESS

This application will be assigned to a Judge who will determine how to receive evidence and other related documents necessary for the CPUC to establish a record upon which to base its decision. Evidentiary Hearings (EHs) may be held where parties of record will present their testimony and may be subject to cross-examination by other parties. These EHs are open to the public, but only those who are parties of record can participate. After considering all proposals and all evidence presented during the formal hearing process, the assigned Judge will issue a proposed decision determining whether to adopt all or part of SoCalGas' request, modify it or deny it. The CPUC Commissioners may sponsor an alternate decision and the issue will be decided at a scheduled Commission Voting Meeting.

As a party of record, the Office of Ratepayer Advocates (ORA) has reviewed this application. ORA is the independent consumer advocate within the CPUC with a legislative mandate to represent investor-owned utility customers to
