Natural Gas Leakage Abatement Report

In partial fulfillment of

Senate Bill (SB) 1371 (Leno, 2014) and
Order Instituting Rulemaking (OIR) 15-01-008

By: Southern California Gas Company

Date: 5/15/15

Introduction

The following data in this report (SoCalGas Report) has been prepared to comply with Senate Bill 1371 (Leno, 2014), Section 2, Article 3,¹ Order Instituting Rulemaking (OIR) 15-01-008.

Pursuant to SB 1371, Leno - Natural gas: leakage abatement, the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC or Commission) requested in the OIR that the following information be filed in the report by May 15, 2015:

1. A description and general location of each gas corporation's gas pipeline facilities, including its intrastate transmission and distribution lines.
2. A summary of its current leak management practices.
3. A list of new methane leaks in 2013 by grade, and in 2014 by grade.
4. A list of open leaks that are being monitored or are scheduled to be repaired. If the open leak is only being monitored, provide the reason why the leak has not been scheduled to be repaired.
5. The total number of leaks detected and repaired in 2013 and 2014, and the time it took to repair those leaks once they were discovered.
6. A best estimate of gas loss due to leaks (list estimated gas loss by month for 2013 and 2014), and an explanation of how the estimates were derived.²

² OIR, at 9 and Ordering Paragraph (OP) 7. The OIR required a broader set of data than SB 1371. See OIR, at 3-4 (quoting CAL. PUB. UTIL. CODE § 975(c)):

- (a) A summary of utility leak management practices.
- (b) A list of new methane leaks in 2013 by grade.
- (c) A list of open leaks that are being monitored or are scheduled to be repaired.
- (d) A best estimate of gas loss due to leaks.

5/15/15

Pursuant to the OIR, this first report by utilities is intended to gather information in Phase 1 of the proceeding before the Commission considers what rules and procedures should be adopted in Phase 2.³ Since many of the emissions sources were gathered for the first time by SoCalGas to produce a best estimate of total lost methane, this first report is an approximation of information that may be necessary to report annually for future years under SB 1371. The report is based on available information and best engineering estimates by SoCalGas and will continue to be refined through the Phase 1 information-gathering process. Because the definition of a “leak” used in the report and contents of the report are for information-gathering purposes only, the report should not be used to prejudge the Commission’s decisions on definitions and scope of future reporting requirements based on the legal and factual record.

Executive Summary

This SoCalGas Report provides methane leak information for the period 2013 through 2014, as required by SB 1371 and the OIR. The Reportable Leaks Tab in Attachment 1 to the report provides an inventory of individual methane leaks discovered, repaired, and that remain open for monitoring or repair. As mentioned in SoCalGas’ and SDG&E’s reply comments in the OIR,⁴ this tab uses the definition of “leak” under the Department of Transportation Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA) (i.e.,

“an unintentional escape of gas from the pipeline. A non-hazardous release that can be eliminated by lubrication, adjustment, or tightening, is not a leak.”⁵

In the Lost Methane Tab provided in Attachment 1 to the report, the PHMSA definition also applies to SoCalGas’ best estimate of total gas lost due to leaks annually. An annual “system-wide methane emission rate” was conducted using an alternative approach than that suggested by the CPUC’s Safety and Enforcement Division (SED) in its Data Requests 01-09-15-01, 01A, and 01B (SED Data Request) that SoCalGas believes is more appropriate to capture the actual emissions. However, for illustrative purposes SoCalGas used both approaches for one year to help clarify why the suggested approach is not as appropriate as SoCalGas’ alternative, as explained in Section 8 below. SoCalGas looks forward to working with stakeholders and the Commission in determining how best to calculate and report a system-wide methane emission rate on a going-forward basis. This first report does show that, based on SoCalGas’ best estimate, total methane emissions⁶ (including intentional releases)⁷ represent approximately 0.11% for 2013 and 0.13% for 2014 of total annual system throughput. This percentage is similar to calculations of reported emissions under California’s Assembly Bill (AB) 32 Global Warming Solutions Act and the Environmental Protection Agency’s (EPA) Mandatory Reporting Program when updated emission factors are used from the recently released Washington State University (WSU)

⁵ See 49 CFR § 191.11 and § 191.17 (incorporating by reference this definition in DOT Forms PHMSA F 7100.1-1 and 7100.2-1). Natural Gas Transmission and Distribution operators have reported data based on these definitions.

⁶ Methane typically accounts for about 95% of natural gas. For greater accuracy in determining methane emissions, estimates of methane losses should be adjusted accordingly.

⁷ In this report leaks are classified as being unintentional, intentional releases are classified as emissions.

study.⁸ SoCalGas, as the largest gas distribution utility in the nation, takes seriously its commitment to continue to reduce this estimate of total methane emissions pursuant to SB 1371's climate change goal, but is encouraged to see that its proactive approach in implementing best management practices to reduce methane emissions for the past two decades has resulted in one of the lowest emission rates in the country.⁹

While federal safety regulations do allow gas distribution companies to continue to monitor non-hazardous leaks without repairing them, SoCalGas recognizes that more can be done to mitigate non-hazardous leaks to reduce even more methane emissions. As directed by SB 1371, we will continue to prioritize leak repair in accordance with safety regulations. However, SoCalGas presented the Commission with a plan in its General Rate Case (GRC) in November 2014 to increase the rate of pipe replacement and repair non-hazardous leaks to meet SB 1371's greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction goal. A decision

⁸ Brian K. Lamb et al., "Direct Measurement Show Decreasing Methane Emissions from Natural Gas Local Distribution Systems in the United States," ENVTL. SCI. & TECH, Mar. 31, 2015. This recent, nationwide study by WSU involved direct measurement of methane emissions from local natural gas distribution systems and found that methane emissions were actually 36 to 70% lower than current U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates. SoCalGas was one of 13 utilities participating in the study, which was conducted in collaboration with the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF) and American Gas Association (AGA). The study also found that methane emissions from local distribution systems ranged between 0.1 to 0.2% of the total natural gas delivered nationwide in 2011. The SoCalGas distribution system's emissions rates are on the lower end of the range.

⁹ Over the past two decades, some of the most effective steps SoCalGas has taken include:

- modernizing equipment in its Metering and Regulating (M&R) facilities to utilize zero- or lower-emitting devices than previously available;
- eliminating cast iron pipe from its system;
- implementing operational procedures to minimize gas vented to atmosphere during routine maintenance and other operational activities; and
- prioritizing the replacement of pipe that does not meet current standards for the prevention of corrosion.

by the Commission is anticipated by the end of 2015. Once funding is approved, SoCalGas anticipates repairing all currently identified pending non-hazardous leaks by the end of 2018. If approved, SoCalGas estimates that this would reduce its total methane emissions by approximately 16% by 2018 based on the information gathered in this report.

As stated in SoCalGas' and SDG&E's reply comments in the OIR,¹⁰ SoCalGas' best estimate of calculable losses from intentional, controlled releases used the SED's definition (i.e., "any release of methane from the gas system into the atmosphere, whether intentional or unintentional, whether hazardous or non-hazardous"). Although SB 1371 does not mention intentional, non-hazardous releases from operation and maintenance (O&M) and system design activities and the Commission has yet to determine the final scope of the OIR, SoCalGas included its best estimate of calculable losses from such activities for informational purposes. As discussed in Section 9 below, these releases represent approximately one-third of SoCalGas' total emissions. If intentional releases are included in the scope of the OIR, it should be for the purpose of reducing GHG emissions from a continuous system improvement perspective. Treating such intentional releases similar to unintentional "leaks" for repair, even though they are required as part of the safe operation of the natural gas system, would distract from SB 1371's climate change goal and cost considerations. This OIR can explore best management practices that may help utilities reduce such releases, but mitigation of hazardous leaks from a safety perspective should remain the top priority. Other methane emissions to the atmosphere that are not a safety concern, whether unintentional leaks or intentional releases, need to be categorized in terms of volumes and costs, and then the Commission can assess utilities' remediation strategies (or new methods of operation) based on volumes reduced and costs incurred.

Although not required by the OIR for the report, SED requested that additional information be transmitted to the SED and the California Air Resources Board (ARB) in SED's Data Request. The information in this report overlaps with the information provided in response to SED's Data Request, but excludes some information not required by the OIR.¹¹

Leak Management Practices

- (1) A description and general location of each gas corporation's gas pipeline facilities, including its intrastate transmission and distribution lines.

Response:

Due to having an integrated transmission system the following description addresses both SoCalGas and San Diego Gas & Electric Company (SDG&E). SoCalGas is the largest natural gas distribution company in the nation, delivering natural gas to over five million residential and business customers. SDG&E provides natural gas distribution service to San Diego County and delivers natural gas to over 845,000 residential and business customers. SoCalGas and SDG&E have been providing safe and reliable gas delivery service for over 100 years and are committed to continuing to do so. Both have diverse customer bases and diverse customer needs. The SoCalGas and SDG&E transmission systems are integrated and designed to provide reliable service from California production, connections to intrastate, interstate and international natural gas systems, and SoCalGas' storage fields to their customers. The integrated system includes 13 compressor stations and over 3,700 miles of high pressure transmission pipeline. SoCalGas also has four underground natural gas storage facilities. The combined territory extends from the Colorado River on the eastern end to the Pacific Coast on the western end and from Tulare County in the north to the United States/Mexico border in the south.

¹¹ Parties in Rulemaking (R.) 15-01-008 may separately receive this data through a data request.

SoCalGas' and SDG&E's distribution systems are comprised of about 100,000 miles and 14,600 miles of mains and services respectively, which generally operate at pressures equal to or less than 60 pounds per square inch.

(2) Summary of all current utility leak management practices, as of December 31, 2014.

Response:

The following response is a high level summary of the current utility leak management practices for this report.

SoCalGas' Leak Management Program includes preventative and responsive measures and programs. Preventative measures include design and construction standards, damage prevention programs, corrosion control programs, and pipe and facility inspections. Response measures include responding to customer and other calls of natural gas leakage, addition of odorant for the detection of leakage, response to reports of excavation damage and Company leak survey practices.

5/15/15

Leak survey includes periodic instrumented survey of distribution facilities.

When methane emissions are detected, a "four-point" inspection, evaluating the site in relation to its proximity to people and property, the concentration of gas present in the area at the time of inspection, the potential for gas to accumulate in the surrounding area and the presence of an ignition source is completed.

Leak indications are then classified as hazardous or non-hazardous. The leak classification establishes the maximum time limit from date of detection to the date action is required. Work management and leak record data is stored in maintenance and inspection systems.

SoCalGas follows the LEAKS protocol for determining the effectiveness of the leak management program.

- L. Locate the leaks in the system – the quality of leak locating is dependent upon field personnel training, inspection policies and procedures and equipment.
- E. Evaluate the actual or potential hazard associated with the leak – the evaluation of the leak and classification is dependent upon policies and procedures, field personnel, training, and equipment.
- A. Act appropriately to mitigate the hazard – refers to the assignment of appropriate action based on the leak classification. The decision and timing for leak repair is dictated by SoCalGas policies and procedures and implemented at the division level.
- K. Keep Records – record keeping is initiated at the division level and managed in the various leak management systems.

5/15/15

- S. Self-Assess to determine if additional actions are necessary to keep people and property safe – the overall requirement to review policies, procedures, personnel, training, equipment, implementation, and data to determine the overall effectiveness of the leak management program (Company Safety Plan).

(3) Summary of changes to utility leak management practices, from January 1, 2013 to December 31, 2014.

Response:

In 2013 SoCalGas began to use the Piccarro Surveyor® system on a pilot basis to make special assessments and evaluate this promising technology. This evaluation is still in process.

In 2013 and 2014 the leakage classification and mitigation schedules were updated to provide clarification guidance for assessing leaks and assigning leak codes/grades where the leak is found on an above-ground facility. The time to complete repairs for both belowground and aboveground leaks were also clarified and updated.

Inventory of Reportable Leaks

(4) List of new methane leaks discovered by grade, date discovered, and annual volume of methane leaked for each, by month, from January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2014.

Order Instituting Rulemaking (OIR) 15-01-008

5/15/15

Response:

See Attachment 1, Reportable Leaks Tab

Total leaks discovered by grade in 2014 were:

- 9,259 Code 1 hazardous leaks
- 21,018 Code 2 non-hazardous leaks
- 5,468 Code 3 non-hazardous leaks
- 40 Above-Ground (AG) Hazardous leaks
- 201 Above-Ground (AG) Non-Hazardous leaks

The dataset in the report also reveals that Excavation Damages, also known as “Dig-Ins,” account for 7.6% of all leaks in 2014. Understanding the cause of leaks will help stakeholders develop appropriate remediation strategies in this proceeding. Therefore, SoCalGas has included an additional column in the inventory of leaks to identify Excavation Damages as the cause, where known.

- (5) List of methane leaks repaired, by month, from January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2014. Include the grade, date discovered, date of repair, annual volume of methane leaked for each, and the number of days from the time the leak was discovered until the date of repair.

Response:

See Attachment 1, Reportable Leaks Tab

Total leaks repaired by grade in 2014 were:

- 9,098 Code 1 hazardous leaks
- 20,898 Code 2 non-hazardous leaks
- 4,345 Code 3 non-hazardous leaks
- 0 Above-Ground (AG) Hazardous leaks
- 0 Above-Ground (AG) Non-Hazardous leaks

(6) List of open leaks that are being monitored or are scheduled to be repaired, by month, for Calendar Years 2013 through 2014. Include the grade, date discovered, scheduled date of repair, and annual volume of methane leaked for each.

Response:

See Attachment 1, Reportable Leaks Tab

Total open leaks by grade as of December 31, 2014 were:

- 424 Code 1 hazardous leaks (all Code 1 leaks are immediately worked and made safe, and scheduled for permanent repair by no later than 15 months from the date discovered for Distribution pipelines and 6 months from the date discovered for Transmission and Storage pipelines)
- 590 Code 2 non-hazardous leaks (all Code 2 leaks are scheduled for repair by no later than 15 months from the date discovered for Distribution pipelines and 6 months from the date discovered for Transmission and Storage pipelines)
- 8,277 Code 3 non-hazardous leaks
- 40 Above-Ground (AG) Hazardous leaks (all AG Hazardous leaks are immediately worked and made safe, and scheduled for repair by no later than 15 months from the date discovered)

- 201 Above-Ground (AG) Non-Hazardous leaks (all AG Non-hazardous leaks are scheduled for repair no more than 15 months from the date discovered with other time intervals specified for specific operating conditions)

It should be noted that the leaks reported by the Utility Workers Union of America (UWUA) in reply comments at page 7 did not account for the “Hazardous” leaks repaired as a subset of the total leaks repaired on SoCalGas’ Annual Distribution report to PHMSA. The correct numbers as reported to PHMSA are shown on the second table below. The values highlighted in yellow that were reported by UWUA have been corrected. Additionally, UWUA categorized “Leak Activity” as the addition of “Leaks Repaired” and “Backlog Leaks.”

Total Methane Emissions

- (7) Best estimate of total gas lost due to leaks annually from January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2014.¹²

Response:

See Attachment 1, Lost Methane Tab

See Attachment 2, Top 10 SoCalGas Emission Sources in 2014
and Options for Improvements

See table in Section 8 below for emission calculation

approach for other unintentional releases not in the Top 10

- (8) The annual system-wide gas leak rate, along with any data and computer models used in making that calculation, from January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2014.¹³

Response:

See Attachment 1, Lost Methane Tab

The SED Data Request included a formula to calculate an annual system-wide leak rate. This formula is similar to performing a mass balance of the gas entering and exiting the system. There are significant challenges with this approach, including measurement error and synchronization of measurements.

¹² SoCalGas and SDG&E in Opening Comments on the SED Staff Report on Leakage Abatement recommended that reporting periods be consistent with current GHG reporting requirements that are year to year.

¹³ SoCalGas and SDG&E in Opening Comments on the SED Staff Report on Leakage Abatement recommended that reporting periods be consistent with current GHG reporting requirements that are year to year.

The annual system-wide gas methane emission or leak rate equation presented in item "K" under Definitions and Instructions in the SED Data Request is stated as: [(Purchased gas + produced gas + transported gas entering the gas system) minus (customer use + company use + appropriate adjustments + gas injected into storage + transported gas leaving the gas system)] divided by (purchased gas + produced gas + transported gas entering the gas system) = System Wide Gas Leak Rate. Note: Transported gas refers to gas intended to enter and leave the system without being burned in California

Other than "Transported Gas" the terms are left undefined, but it appears to be a mass balance equation of gas entering and leaving the system. SoCalGas has concerns that the resultant methane emission rate would not solely equate to intentional and unintentional releases of gas to the atmosphere due primarily to challenges associated with measurement errors and synchronization of measurements at a single point in time. As an example, applying the SoCalGas 2013 LUAF equation components into this formula we obtain:

$$[(1,067,674) - (1,059,220 + 4,756 + 7,503 + 85,832 + 1,059,220)] / (1,067,674) = -.0011$$
MMCF.

This is compared to the SoCalGas estimated emissions result from the data gathered for SB1371 for 2013, which is 1133.87 MMCF. This clearly demonstrates that the proposed formula does not properly take into account the many variables involved.

SoCalGas believes another approach utilizing the detailed list of emission sources and estimated emissions that can be tied to activities, events, system components, among other things, as required by SED's Data Request will provide a more defensible system methane emission rate.

SoCalGas proposes to have a working group with the other natural gas utilities and the SED to further discuss this equation and develop a consistent methodology in providing a more defensible and accurate accounting of system methane emissions.

The table below summarizes the emission sources and emission calculation approach for both intentional and unintentional releases:

Natural Gas Leakage Abatement Report

In Partial Response to Senate Bill 1371 (Leno, 2014) and Order Instituting Rulemaking (OIR) 15-01-008

05/15/15

Attachment 1

Pursuant to SB 1371, Leno - Natural gas: leakage abatement, the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC), SoCalGas provides the following for information purposes:

Note - Definitions stated in SoCalGas Report apply

(6) Best estimate of total gas lost due to leaks annually from January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2014 for unintentional and intentional releases.

(7) The annual system-wide methane emission rate, along with any data and computer models used in making that calculation, from January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2014.

(8) Calculable losses from intentional, controlled releases, including construction, purging, line breaks, operations and maintenance, etc., annually, from January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2014.

Response:

Top 10 SoCalGas Emission Sources in 2014 and Options for Improvements

Rank 1	Trans & Dist	PHMSA "Minor" Release	Unintentional	Res/Com/Ind MSAs plus Trans Fugitive PHMSA Minor releases

Emissions in the category of PHMSA "Minor" release (fugitive emissions) is a general category of emissions that can be eliminated by tightening, lubrication or adjustment. For Residential and Commercial MSAs the factors develop by GTI and reported in GTI-OTD Final Report titled Field Measurement Program to Improve Uncertainties for Key Greenhouse Gas Emission Factors for Distribution Sources, Nov 10, 2009 were applied to the system inventory of Residential and Commercial MSAs to derive the emissions estimate from these facilities.

Improvement of these estimates are expected to be achieved as reporting of these types of release mitigation activities are better documented and reported. Applying an average emissions rate to actual mitigation events is believed will yield a better result than applying an emissions factor to the entire system.

For fugitive emissions on Transmission pipelines and facilities (including DOT-defined Transmission lines in a Storage field) the factors from EPA Subpart W were used based on the type of system component.

These emissions estimates can be improved as new technologies are developed that allow direct flux rate measurements of emissions rather than relying on measurements of gas concentration and assuming the emissions rate based on factors by component type.

Rank 2	Trans & Dist	System Leakage	Unintentional	Distribution & Transmission System Leaks

Emissions from Distribution system leaks are calculated from system leaks data along with an estimate of leaks for the portion of system not surveyed during the reported Year. Leak rate factors for the various pipeline materials were obtained from The Washington State University study by Dr. Lamb. All leaks are assumed to exist since Jan 1st and end when leak is repaired. Leaks detected in the report year are assumed to have been leaking since Jan 1. Estimate of unknown leaks are derived from system miles scheduled for multi-year leak survey intervals. The average system leak rates by pipeline material are calculated from the system miles surveyed and leaks reported by pipe material for non-Damage Cause Categories. Transmission pipelines are not assumed to leak since system leakage is rare.

Rank 3	Trans & Dist	System Repair, Replacement, Installation	Intentional	Facility & Pipeline Blow Down & Purge

The pressurized gas in pipelines and compressors must be blown to atmosphere during numerous situations, including but not limited to the following: Maintenance or replacement of pipelines or compressors, pressure testing, in-line inspection, emergency shutdown during upset or testing, regulatory compliance (e.g. measurements required by AB 32, Subpart W), shutdown of centrifugal compressors. Current processes and equipment are effective at capturing compressor blow down volumes.

For pipeline blow downs, improvements in data accuracy may be achieved by enhancing enterprise systems so that all "Work Orders" have a required entry for the blow down volume or provide entries for pipe length, diameter, temperature, and pressure so that the system can calculate a blow down volume.

Rank 4	Storage	Facility & Component Design (Operation)	Intentional	Compressor Seal Losses

Reciprocating compressors use “rod packing” and centrifugal compressors use “wet seals” to minimize the compressed gas that escapes to atmosphere during operation. However, these systems are not perfect and they tend to allow more gas to escape as the packing or seals become more worn. Current methods of measuring the escaping gas are fairly accurate.

Small improvements in emissions accuracy could be achieved by implementing a continuous measurement system that totalizes all escaped gas are justified. Such a design is likely to require additional personnel to monitor and maintain the measurement system. A more in-depth analysis would be required to determine if this approach would have a cost benefit.

Rank 5	Trans & Dist	System Leakage	Unintentional	Damages (Excavation, Natural Force & Other Outside Force causes)

Methane is emitted to the atmosphere when pressurized natural gas piping or associated devices (e.g. valves, regulators) are sufficiently damaged to cause a break in the equipment. Such damage can result from excavation equipment (e.g. back hoe, grader, auger) coming in contact with buried natural gas facilities, natural causes such as tree roots, landslides, and gophers, and other causes such as vehicular contact with aboveground gas piping. Emissions are estimated by Region Engineering using pipeline modeling software to calculate gas blown volumes. The calculations require the dimensions of the damage opening, a validated model of the piping system where the damage occurred, and the duration of the gas blowing. The emissions estimate provided was derived from approximately 10,000 events where these estimates were performed. The remaining population of damage events was then assigned factors based on the known population data.

Improving the accuracy of damage-related emissions estimates could be achieved by recording critical information when all damages occur and modeling the release to determine gas blown to atmosphere. Changes to some company forms and Enterprise software would be needed to facilitate this accuracy improvement. Some additional labor to gather the data and perform the calculations would also be required.

Rank 6	Trans & Dist	Facility & Component Design (Operation)	Intentional	Compressor Seal Losses
--------	--------------	---	-------------	------------------------

Rank 7	Storage	System Leakage	Unintentional	System Leaks
--------	---------	----------------	---------------	--------------

Emissions from leaks on Storage piping and facilities are obtained from leak surveys and assessments per company standard procedures. For fugitive emissions the equation used to calculate the volume of methane released is per EPA subpart W. Total component count (leaking) x emission factor x duration of leak. Duration is assumed to be 100% of year (i.e. 8760 hours). Total component counts used for the calculations are a combination of actual survey data plus estimates calculated for the facilities not subject to GHG reporting.

Rank 8	Trans & Dist	PHMSA "Minor" Release	Unintentional	Regulator Station Emissions
--------	--------------	-----------------------	---------------	-----------------------------

Methane is bled to the atmosphere during various maintenance activities at district regulator stations, tap facilities, and pressure limiting stations. For example, methane is bled to atmosphere at a minimal rate to set the pilot regulator and test both the pilot and main body regulator for proper lock-up. Also, when certain parts require replacements, an entire portion of the regulator station must be isolated and depressurized.

Rank 9	Trans & Dist	Maintenance Inspection & Test	Intentional	Facility & Pipeline Blow Down & Purge
Rank 10	Storage	Maintenance Inspection & Test	Intentional	Facility & Pipeline Blow Down & Purge

The pressurized gas in pipelines and compressors must be blown to atmosphere during numerous situations, including but not limited to the following: Maintenance or replacement of pipelines or compressors, pressure testing, in-line inspection, emergency shutdown during upset or testing, regulatory compliance (e.g. measurements required by AB 32, Subpart W), and shutdown of centrifugal compressors. Current processes and equipment within storage operations are effective at capturing compressor pipeline blow down volumes.
