

CALIFORNIA ADVANCED HOMES PROGRAM

ENHANCED ENERGY-EFFICIENCY INCENTIVES FOR THOSE REBUILDING HOMES IN VENTURA AND SANTA BARBARA COUNTIES

In support of the rebuilding effort underway to restore single-family homes lost in the Thomas Fire or the January 9th debris flow in Ventura and Santa Barbara Counties, SoCalGas® is offering enhanced incentives for energy-efficient new home construction projects in the affected areas through the California Advanced Homes Program (CAHP).

CAHP provides financial incentives for new single-family homes that are built to exceed the energy-efficiency standards in California's 2016 Title 24 Building Code by 15 percent or more. In the affected areas, SoCalGas is offering an increase in the incentive amount that is 50 percent greater than the standard CAHP incentive. Single-family home fire/debris flow rebuild projects can qualify for up to $8,550 in incentives.

SoCalGas will work with officials from Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties, as well as the Ventura County Regional Energy Alliance (VCREA), to identify eligible property owners. Those who are eligible for the enhanced incentives and interested in participating in the program should take the following steps:

- 1) Visit socialgas.com/cahp and download a copy of the CAHP Handbook
- 2) Consult with your builder or energy analyst to review the program requirements
- 3) Work with your builder who will contact a SoCalGas Account Representative to begin the application process

Applications must be received by December 31, 2018, to be eligible for the enhanced incentives.
