

Air Sampling Collection Sites

The green points below indicate where air samples are being consistently collected twice daily in the neighboring community. The blue points indicate where additional samples have been collected.

Air sampling is also being conducted within the Aliso Canyon facility in several locations upwind of the community. The green squares indicate where air samples are being consistently collected twice daily. Additional sampling (blue) and real-time air monitoring also are being conducted near the leak site.

Due to security policies, SoCalGas must obscure the features of the map covering the storage facility.
