HVAC AND RESOURCE INFORMATION

Guide for Heating Ventilating and Air Conditioning (HVAC) Systems

STEP 1: FOCUS ON QUALITY INSTALLATION

How well your HVAC system performs, and how much it costs to operate, depends in part on the proper installation of the system. Improper HVAC installation may cost more in the long run – using more electricity, running up your bill and making your air conditioning work harder. This can shorten equipment life. Common installation problems such as low air flow, improper charge or duct leakage can reduce the efficiency and capacity of your air conditioner.

STEP 2: CONTRACTOR SELECTION

Hiring a licensed contractor who obtains the required building permit and has knowledge of, and complies with, local codes, ordinances and the requirements of the Building Energy Efficiency Standards (State Administrative Code, Title 24, Part 6 (www.bsc.ca.gov – search “CODES”)) increases the likelihood that your system will be properly installed and will work efficiently, quietly and safely.

Licensed contractors, in general:

- Have a minimum of four full years of experience performing the trade.
- Have taken a law and trade exam.
- Are required to have a contractors bond.
- Have been the subject of a background check.
- Are regulated by the Contractors State License Board.

Installers who perform contracting work without having a license have avoided these quality assurance requirements and, in addition, may be in violation of the law.

STEP 3: QUALITY ASSURANCE

Cities and counties inspect a sample of projects when a construction permit is issued. A building permit, issued by a local authority, may be required for HVAC installations and modifications including, but not limited to, the following:

- New HVAC installation.
- HVAC change-out/remodel/replacement including the air handler, coil, furnace or condenser.
- Relocation of an existing HVAC unit.
- Removal of an HVAC unit or system.
- Added ducting.

The installation of the equipment may be inspected by a building inspector who will perform a quality assurance check that may include ensuring:

- The system is installed to comply with all applicable state, county or city codes.
- The work specified under the permit has been performed properly.
- Required compliance documents have been submitted.

Important: In accordance with California Public Utilities Code section 399.4(b), the customer or their contractor must provide proof of permit closure when installing a natural gas furnace. Name and address shown on proof of permit closure must match the name and installed address listed on the application form.
