

What is the California Climate Credit?

A Message from the California Public Utilities Commission

This month* your natural gas bill will include a credit of $86.60 identified as the “California Climate Credit.” Your household and millions of others throughout the state will receive this credit on your utility bills.

The California Climate Credit is a direct result of the State’s nation-leading Cap-and-Trade Program that requires polluters to pay for climate pollution. Credits are distributed in April each year. Credits appear automatically on your bill and are designed to help utility customers during the transition to a more sustainable future.

Since 2018, California’s SoCalGas households like yours have already received an average of $268 in California Climate Credits on your natural gas utility bills, totaling nearly $3.5 billion in Cap-and-Trade Program cumulative benefits statewide.

For more information about the Climate Credit, visit www.cpuc.ca.gov/climatecredit.

For information about additional programs that are funded by the Cap-and-Trade Program to reduce carbon pollution, improve public health and the environment, and provide meaningful benefits to the most disadvantaged communities, visit www.caclimateinvestments.ca.gov.

*Billing periods vary by utility and may not always coincide with a calendar month. If you don’t see a Climate Credit in the bill that arrives this month, it will appear in the bill you receive next month as a line item on the gas portion of your bill.

The CPUC regulates privately owned electric and natural gas companies and serves the public interest by protecting consumers and ensuring the provision of safe, reliable utility service and infrastructure at reasonable rates, with a commitment to environmental enhancement and a healthy California economy.
